New U.S. Envoy at Berlin Holds First Reception

Ambassador and Mrs. Houghton Receive Diplomats; Imperial Formality Abandoned.

BERLIN, June 21.—(Associated Press)
The post-war resumption of social activities at the American Embassy was brilliantly inaugurated to-night with Ambassador Houghton's first reception to the diplomatic corps. Both from the point of attendance and the colorful setting given the event through artistic decorations and illumination the function resolved itself into a distinct social success.

terms.

Contrary to pre-war custom of the Imperial Master of Ceremonies assuming the function of introducing a new Ambassador to the resident diplomatic corps, Mr. Houghton was obliged to greet his guests personally, as Republican Germany is not yet sufficiently prosperous to permit herself the luxury of a social secretary.
